Commercial Club Was Host to General Thomas and His Staff.

The opening of the Commercial club social season at the club rooms last evening was one of the most delightful events of fair week. The number of guests almost taxed the big club house to its full capacity, but the members proved equal to the occasion and in spite of the crowded condition, everyone gave evidence of keenest enjoyment. While Governor Curry was unable to be present, members of his staff were there and General Thomas, Col. Hunter and the captains and lieutenants of the Fifth cayalry were present.

cavalry were present.

The music was excellent and the evening was pleasantly spent with dancing, social conversation and in enjoyment of the hospitality of the biggest and best Commercial club rooms in the southwest.

biggest and best Commercial club rooms in the southwest.

The club rooms were beautifully decorated in red and green and with their bright lights, the handsome costumes of the ladies and the nobility of the men, the scene was one of great beauty. It was remarked by an eastern observer who was the guest of the club that the gathering excelled that of any like affair in the east in every way and especially in the excellent manner in which the big throng was entertained.

In Honor of Commanders.

In Honor of Commanders, The Commercial club arranged this ball principally in honor of General Thomas, Colonel Hunter and their staffs, and those joily soldiers were the guests of honor throughout the evening.

A light luncheon, served at an ap-ropriate hour, made a fitting con-custon for an evening of great enloyment.

It is the intention of the club to entertain frequently during the fall and winter and if last evening's dance as any criterion, the big handsome Commercial club building will be the scene of many a gay gathering in the near fours. car future.
